VILLES A HARD BEATING. The Brooklyns Again Overpowered by the Cincinnatis-Boston Beats Chicago Twice-Pittaburgh, Cleveland, and Wash-ington Winners-PRourke Reinstated.

By winning five of the last six games the New Yorks have drawn up to a respectable position in the race, and but nineteen points separate them from the team in fourth place. To-day they meet the leaders, and it is only reasonable to suppose that the local players will have a harder task than they had with St. Louis and Louisville. As a result of the two defeats at the hands of Cincin nati the Brooklyns have fallen into fifth place, for which position they are tled with the Quakers. Uncle Ansor again run against a streak of very bad luck, and the four American Association teams are again in a graceful cluster at the foot of the list. Yesterday's games resulted as follows:

New York, 11; Louisville, 3. Cincipuati, 7; Brooklyn, 4.

Boston, 4: Chicogo, 1. (First game.) Boston, 10; Chicago, 4. (Second game.) Pittsburgh, 6: Philadelphia, 4. Cieveland, 10; Battimore, 5. (First game.) Claveland, 5; Baltimore, 5. (Second game, Washington, 2; St. Louis, 0.

THE RECORD. NEW YORK, 11: LOUISVILLE, 3.

The Colonels felt very cheerful yesterday afternoon at the close of the fifth inning. They had scored two runs, which put them in the lead, and the outlook was quite rosy. At the end of the first half of the sixth inning, however, it would have been difficult to find a more glum and disheartened lot of men than those composing the Louisville team. The change was caused by a savage onslaught of the New York batsmen on big Sanders's pitching, with the result that the Colonels were routed with great disorder. Only in the fifth did the Louisvilles man-nge to put two hits together, King bafling all their efforts, in which undertaking he was ably supported by his fellow players. The visitors got a run across the plate in the first inning as a result of Brown's single, a passed rown's steal to second, and Boyle's wild to third.

hall. Brown's steal to second, and Boyle's wild throw to third.

In the fourth, with Lyons out, Doyle made a terrific drive to left centre for a clean home run. Tiernan died at first, but Boyle hit for a base, and took second on Brown's fimble. Then McMahon smashed a line triple to left, sending Boyle home. McMahon was left on Knowles's fly to Whistler. In the fifth it was Louisville's turn to smile. Jennings started off with a base on balls, and Whistler went out at first. Merritt's single to centre drove Jennings to the plate, and Sanders's double to left put Merritt on third. Brown sent a fly to Burke and Merritt scored on the sacrifice. Taylor was out at first.

When the New Yorks took their sixth turn at the bar they seemed to feel that the time had arrived for decisive action. Before the last man was out twelve men had faced Sanders, who was puffing hard. Eight runs had been scored, of which Lyons made two, and seven hits had been scored, of which two were credited to Doyle. The score:

The Brooklyns got a good start in yesterday's game at Eastern Park against the Cincinnati players, but the Reds overhauled them before the second lap, and passed them in a canter on the third. Ward's men could not regain their lost lead, and the Ohioans finished in good form. Chamberiain began to pitch for the visitors, but after he had been touched up for three earned runs at the start, Comiskey took him out of the box and put in Sullivan. The new man sent a number of players to first on balls, but the home team could not hit the ball. An unfortunate muff of Woods's foul fly after two men were out was the means of letting in two runs in the first. Latham's single, Bug Holliday's triple, and a wild pitch gave the visitors two additional runs in the third. The Brooklyns scored in the sixth on a base on balls and singles by Corcoran and Daly. In this inning a single, O'Brien's fumble. Smith's sacrifice, and bullivan's hit gave Cincinnati another run. The livan's hit gave Cincinnati another run. The visitors' last run was made in the eighth on a double and two sacrifics hits. The score:

The Sugar Trust of Philadeiphia promised to give the Wall street team agame at Prospect Fark on Wednesday last, but it is claimed that the Philadelphians flunked, and the Prospect Boarders very graciously supplied their place. The latter had it in for the Wall street men, but the best they could do was to make it a draw, each club scoring seven runs. The boarders are not yet satisfied; they want another game. "They shall have it," the Wall streeters say.

The twentieth anniversary of the organization of the Resource Club will be duly celebrated at the close of their championship season. The Resolutes were the prime movers in the formation of the present Brooklyn Amsteur Association, and they have been steadfast adherents of pure amateur bad playing. One of the Much aympathy is expressed for Capt, Johnny Grady of the Augustinians. The Captain is not only a finished handball player, but a corking first haseman. He is a poor prophet, however. When the Brooklya Amateur Asacciation was perfecting their plans last winter, Grady said to Luke Wilson of the champion Futions. "Luke, I'm sorry for you. I'll have a team that will walk away with the fiage. If I don't, call our me at the end of the season and I'il treat all hands." Wilson has not forgotten that remark, and he will soon arrange with Grady for the payment of the wager.

The race resolved itself into a triangular duel between the Margue-rite, a Burgess boat, and two of Cary Smith's design, the Lasca and Iroquois. The Marguerite, which was handled in beautiful style throughout, managed to turn the tables on her two speedy rivals, and more than made up for her defeat on Tuesday at Larchmont. The schooners Alcaea and Alert were both entered, but did not start, the former because her now skipper, Hank Haff, did not think she was in fit condition to race, and the latter, because her owner J. There was a nice breeze blowing from the northwest and every one looked for a fast spin. The conditions of the sweepstakes called for a race of thirty nautical miles outside of Sandy Hook, ten miles to a leg, for $200 each, half forfeit. To this the club added a $500 cup to the winner and a $160 cup to the second boat, which also saved her entrance money.

When the Ocean King arrived at the starting line, off Scotland Lightship, at 10:30 o'clock, they found the Lasca, Marguerite, and Iroquois lazily slipping along by the lightship, with jackyarders aloft and foretopsails clewed, waiting for the signal. Neils Oisen, the superintendent of the club, was also on hand with the tug Scandinavian, having two stake boats in tow. The Regata Committee soon decided upon the course and sent Oisen liying away to lay it out. The following were the starters:

The run home to the finishing line off Scotland lightship was a dead beat to windward. The Marguerite settled down to business in sernest and gained on the Lasca all the way in. They made a great race of it, the big Lasca just managing to cross ahead of the Marguerite by a scant hundred yards. The latter, however, easily won first prize with her time allowance. The froquois split tacks with her rivals and only made three legs to the finish. They crossed the line as follows: Lasca, 3:20:56; Marguerite, 3:22:07: Iroquois, 3:28:23.

CORBETT CALLS ON SULLIVAN, But the Big Fellow Falled to Connect-Me

Champion Jim Corbett, looking the picture of health, paid a friendly visit to John L. Sullivan at the Vanderbilt Hotel yesterday after-noon at 1:30 o'clock. Corbett was in company with his trainer, Billy Delaney. The young Californian, however, failed to see the exchampion, as the latter was rehearsing his new play. Corbett was quite surprised at Sullivan's absence, as he had wired beforehand that he would call to see him. The despatch, livan's absence, as he had wired beforehand that he would call to see him. The despatch, however did not reach Sullivan. The big fellow was at once apprised of Corbett's visit and he hurried from the theatre to his quarters at the hotel. Corbett in the mean time departed, but left a note addressed to his late opponent, explaining the cause of his visit and why he could not wait. Corbett stated in his note that he would surely be on hand at his benefit on Saturday night, and that in all probability he would see him some time on Saturday aftenoon and compare notes as it wers.

Sullivan was seen by a Sun reporter later in the afternoon at the Vanderbilt Hotel. "I was very sarry, indeed," said he, "that I was not here to greet Mr. Corbett. We will see cach other, however, very soon. As to how I am feeling, you can tell my friends and the public that I never feit better in my life." Sullivan certainly looks remarkably well. His cyes are bright, and he seems to be as cheerful and contented as ever. He could not keep from laughing heartily over the absurd reports of his being polsoned, deed, &c.

"Do I look life as if I had been tampered with?" he asked, with a smile and significant what alls mannager, Frank Moran.

The big follow was overjoyed, with Superlatendent Byrnea's praise and commendation. John considers it quite a compliment, and says that he will reciprocate the Superintendent's kindness by paying his respects to him before he departs on his theatrical tour.

Dominick McCaffrey says that the members of the Manhattan Athletic Club have consented to allow him to wind up with Sullivan at his benefit on Saturday night should Corbett by some unforeseen accident be debarred from appearing.

In the evening the ex-champion, upon invitation of Charley Johnston, drave over to his (Johnston's) piace in Brooklyn, in company with Matt Clune. It was about So'clock when Sullivan and his party reached Brooklyn. Charley Johnston, Jimmy Dryfus, Billy Donohoe, the jockey, and Jack McAuliffo met the big fellow. Wine was opened at a rapid pace. Johnston suggested that they call on Phil Casey. Three carriages were at once sent for, and in a few minutes the festive-bent party were speeding in the direction of the famous handball champion's quarters. Sullivan drank nothing but appolinaris throughout the evening. He would not be tempted to take anything stronger, oven at the urgent requests of McAuliffe.

NOTHING IN VIEW FOR THE OLYMPICS. But They Will Put Up a Purse for Sullivan to Fight Slavin or Goddard.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15.-President Noel of the Olympic Club says that the club has done absolutely nothing toward further contests and will do nothing for some time to come. There has been no proposition to arrange for the admission of ladies to the arena, as had been reported. The only future contest now in mind is a match between Hall and Fitzsim-mons. There has been no thought of offering a purse for Carroll and Bowen.

a purse for Carroll and Bowen.

A match spoken of was a meeting between Corbett and Jackson. The club have never drawn the color line in settling championships, but in view of public criticism it is about settled that the Orympic Club will not be a bidder for that match.

As there seems to be a willingness upon the part of Corbett and Mitchell to face each other, and as it would doubtless be one of the most scientific battles over fought, and would attract attention all over the world, the club would bid as much as any other organization for the affair.

All arrangements have now been perfected for the two battles to be decided at the Coney Island Athletic Club, on Sept. 26. Tickets have been issued, and are the union of America, and Johnny Griffin of Beintres. Both men are in strict training, and promise to make the battle of their time. It string wins, he intends the battle of the tries. I being wins, he intends the training of the world, $10,000 a side, and the largest purse offered by any responsible club.

On the same night, Sam belly, the 110-pound bantam of the West Side Athletic Club, and Bob Cunningham of the Brooklyn Athletic Club, will fight their first professional battle, for $5.50 a side, and a purse of $5000, the contest to be one of fifteen rounds.

RACING AT FAIR DISTANCES.

ONLY ONE HORSE RACE UNDER A MILE AT GRAVESEND PESTERDAY.

Leonawell Wins the Fuller Stakes at a Mile and a Quarter-Candelabra First in the Handleap at a Mile and a Sixteenth-Parvenue, Speculation, and Bolly Me-Cone All Win Good Baces at a Mile.

The racing was enjoyable at Gravesend yesterday, and backers of form should have returned to the city in good humor. Two of the races were won by favorites, and two by close second-choice horses, Speculation, third choice, winning another, the outsider of the day being Boundless, a G to 1 shot in a field of fourteen maiden two-year-olds. The Fulton Stakes for three-year-olds, at a mile and a quarter, with only four in, was a great betting race, with Leonawell first in favor at odds on. The Rancocas Stable's Kil-kenny carried many thousands of dollars at liberal odds, and Charade had backers at G to Charade, Best Brand, and Kilkenny led the bunch in turn, until Taral went to work on Leonawell at the upper bend. and, sweeping into the homestretch a length in the lead. came on with the track to himself, and beat Kilkenny over the line by an open length from Best Brand third. A double upset came in the first race, a mile dash, in which P. J. Dwyer & Son's mare Re-clare was backed heavily at odds on, and A. C. McCafferty's gelding Hy Dy had a host of followers as second choice. Neither made a show in the race. Speculation, third choice, with Midgley up, made play from the start, Key West heading the field in pursuit, and catching the leader at the half. Shaking Key West off half way down the homestretch, Speculation won by three lengths, Key West taking second place from King Crab by a neck, Reclare lapping fourth, and Hy Dy fifth.

Fairy and Candelabra, top selections in the second race, a handicap for all ages, at one mile and half a furlong, made the running from the first turn. Van Buren, tipped as the good thing and carrying lots of money, kept company to the half, where he away. Running neck and neck with Fairy from the head of the homestretch. Candelabra beat Pairy home by a neck, Fairy beating Willie L. two lengths for the place.

The sort of betting men who take chances in lotteries played Sam Weller, Pappoose colt. Boundless, Chattanooga, Girofle colt, and Ciara colt, to a more or less extent, to win the fourth race, a sweepstakes for two-year-old maidens, at five furlongs. Boundless, getting away eighth, came to the front half way down the homestretch, beating the Girofle colt in a driving finish by a length. Sam Weller, after being cut off in the first part of the race, came third, a length in front of Chattanooga. Pittsburgh Phil's colt Parvenue scared five out of the nine entries in the fifth race, a mile out of the nine entries in the fifth race, a mile dash for three-year-olds which had not won a stake race this year. Taking the inner rail and the lead from Dagonet on the first turn. Dogget rode Parvenue at the head of the line to the finish. Julien crept up to Parvenue at the finish, but Parvenue won well in hand by three-quarters of a length, Julien beating Dagonet four lengths for second place. Walcott, King Crab, and Cynosure made a close brush in the last race to the head of the homestretch, where Clayton called on Dolly McCone, second choice, and the filly responded by heading the leaders, followed by Temple, Dolly McCone won by two lengths, Temple beating Fred Taral, the favorite, a length for second place. Boston, Sept. 15.-The rain of yesterday and the high winds and hot sun of this morning Improved the track at Mystic Park to-day. when the unfinished 2:23 trot was called. Baldwin was in doubt how Sappho would act if the footing was at all soft, but the pure gaited McGregor mare soon settled the ques tion. She stepped the first quarter in 0:33% and had her field beaten from there, winning by six tengths, slowe I almost to a walk. Ten good-looking young trotters came out for the 2:28 class. Every horse had a price in the auction, a sample pool showing Bryan Mc-Gregor, $40; Oxford Chief, $40; Nutmont, $35; Nyanga, $20; Athlete, $20; Dora Thorne, $20; Corinne, $20: Puritan, $10: Week C. $10: Sweetbrier, $10. Quality was well represented in the 2:18 trot, also carried over to Friday. Bundles of money went into the box as follows; Sondan, $160; Lightning, $1:5; Addie L., $105; Harry McNair, $40; Fleekett, $80; Jean Valioan, $70; Aleyone, Jr., $35; Brava, $25. There was a general laying up in the first heat, while Valician won by half a length from Brava. Then Demarest cut loose with Lightning, and beat Valican by an open length, only to lose the next by a nose as Lightning was pulling up, when Valican came with a rush and poked his nose in front right under the wire.

circular track at the fair grounds the sulkies made some merry trips this afternoon, the conditions being favorable for speed. It was all actual racing, and the record for a regulation course was touched when Flying Jib paced a third heat in 2:08%, the same time made by Hal Pointer and Mascot earlier in the senson. This was the stake for the 2:17 class, and with only Barney left to carry the handsome gelding along, he trailed the latter to the half, and then came from there in 1:03, last quarter 314 seconds.

There was no interest in the contest itself, or the 2:27 stake for trotters, as the Ohio mare, Nightingale, was much too fast for her three competitors. She was unsteady for two heats. The 2:22 trot was more exciting, as the favorite, Bello Wilson, went down before Alabama, and the latter placed her record at 2:155, a drop of six seconds on her mile last year. The loss of a shoe in the second heat delayed Alabama's success, but she won easily enough after that. The meeting of Directum and Czar in the stake for three-year-olds resulted in one fast mile, but the Californian had it his own way all through. The first heat in 2:16% is new record for the black colt.

The classes for Friday are the 2:18 and 2:15 frotting, and 2:15 and free for all pacing. Moquette is also to have a trial at the record for stallions of his age 14 years), which McKinney now holds in 2:12%. As Moquette trotted in a race at Cleveland in 2:13%, Mike Bomennan feels pretty sure of showing a sensational mile with the con of Wilton. Summaries: some gelding along, he trailed the latter to the
